EVENT CHAIRS

Jenna McMullin
VP of Communications, Lockheed Martin

Jenna McMullin is the vice president of Communications for Lockheed Martin Space. She leads the strategic development and execution of communications to support the nearly $12 billion Space business area at Lockheed Martin spanning space exploration, satellites and spacecraft, mission solutions, national security programs and strategic and missile defense systems. In her current role, McMullin is responsible for an 80-member communications staff including disciplines of employee communications, community relations, executive communications, protocol and events, media relations, marketing, and visual communications. Her multi-location team spans the nation with offices from California to the Space Coast in Florida. She was named an Outstanding Woman in Business in 2022 by the Denver Business Journal and is a sought-after public speaker.

Maria Gonzales
VP of Development, Protect Our Winters

Maria Gonzales is the Vice President of Development for Protect Our Winters (POW) climate advocacy organization that helps passionate outdoor people protect the places and experiences they love from climate change. In this role, Maria is responsible for leading all fundraising and development activities to advance POW’s work and support its operations. Maria is thrilled to align her passion for the outdoors and climate advocacy with her professional work. Maria regularly volunteers with local non-profits in the Denver metro area. She has served as a board member for WorldDenver since January 2022. She is passionate about supporting the professional development of the next generation of female leaders and has served as a mentor through the Ann Krick Professional Mentoring Program at Camber Outdoors. In her free time, she can be found gardening, camping, rafting, and adventuring with her husband and two rescue dogs, Apollo and Olivia.

Maryam Monsef is the Founder and CEO of ONWARD. As a speaker, facilitator, convener and advocate, she continues to advance her vision for a world where women and their families are thriving.

Maryam arrived in Canada at age 11 as a refugee. Against all odds, she escaped war and survived poverty and displacement to become the first Afghan-Canadian Member of Parliament. Between 2015 to 2021, Maryam was a Member of Parliament and served in Prime Minister Justin Trudeau’s Cabinet. She served as President of the Queen’s Privy Council, Minister for Democratic Institutions, Minister for the Status of Women, Minister of International Development, Minister of Rural Economic Development and established Canada’s first full department for Women and Gender Equality as its Minister. Under her stewardship, Canada was recognized as a world leader in Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights, investments in domestic and international grassroots women’s organizations, and for its intersectional response to COVID-19.

In 2018 and 2019, Monsef was recognized by Apolitical as one of the Top 20 global influencers on gender equality, along with Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Michelle Obama and Malala.

Dr. Margaret “Migs” Muldrow
International Women’s Day 2024
Individual Honoree

As a young girl, Margaret “Migs” Muldrow, MD, lived in southwestern Ethiopia, where her parents worked to establish educational, agricultural, and medical programs. Migs spent much of her childhood helping in a small medical clinic, an experience that ultimately led her to a career in medicine. Years later, when she returned to Ethiopia, Migs discovered that as many as one in 10 women still die in childbirth, and 30 to 40% of those who survive are left with severe gynecologic problems. Working with community leaders in the US and Ethiopia, she established the Village Health Partnership with a goal of providing quality community-based care to expecting mothers in Ethiopia. Dr. Muldrow, her board members, and volunteers have logged countless hours working to raise resources and donations to support community-based efforts for safer motherhood in rural Ethiopia.

Women’s Bean Project
International Women’s Day 2024
Organizational Honoree

Our Mission: Women’s Bean Project is a social enterprise that supports women striving to create lasting change in their lives by establishing steppingstones to self-sufficiency.

Our Vision: We believe all women have the power to transform their lives through employment. We envision a day when barriers to employment are eliminated, when employers hire based on talent and potential rather than background, when all women who want a second chance can come to the Bean Project and find the community, support, and confidence needed to improve the future for themselves, their families, and the community.
We're committed to our relationship with you.
